Brother Arnold

During the process of Brother Arnold's scholastic work at St. Mary's College he practice teaching at two Christian Brother's high schools. Under the administrative direction of Brother Columban, Brother Arnold first practice taught at Sacred Heart in 1951.

Graduation from St. Mary's College in 1953, brought Brother Arnold back to Sacramento in September.

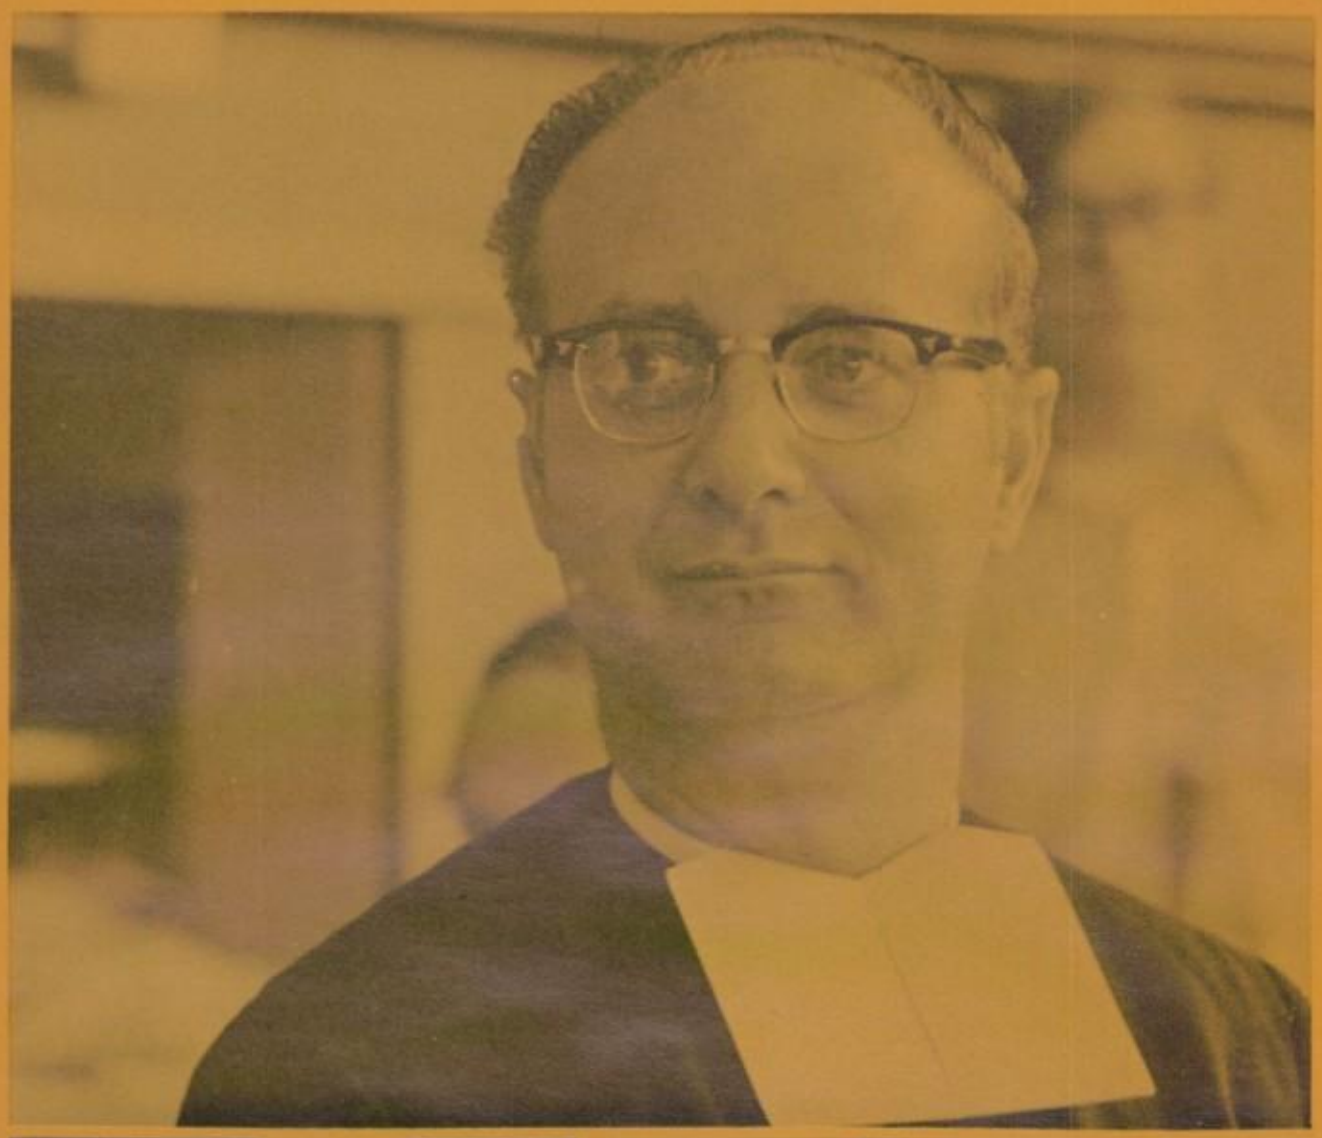
Brother Arnold was transfered in 1960 to Sacred Heart High School in San Francisco, where he taught algebra, business math, Spanish and history. Promoted to vice-principal for three years, Brother Arnold became principal in 1965, succeeding Brother Ignatius.

A man who has become an identifiable part of the present Sacred Heart tradition is our principal Brother Arnold. His administrative ability and honest concern for the faculty and students stems not only from the spirit of Sacred Heart, but from his own Christian commitment.

Brother Arnold was born in Los Angeles, California, on December 23, 1930. His home for eighteen years, Brother Arnold's elementary education was directed by the Immaculate Heart Sisters. Adolescence progressed then to Cathedral High School for Brother Arnold, where under the Christian Brothers he graduated from high school in 1948. Involvement for Brother Arnold in high school was limited to evening activities such as rallies, dances, the yearbook and newspaper; since he found it necessary to work throughout high school.

Interest in the Christian Brothers had entered Brother Arnold's mind when he was a junior at Cathedral High School. Yet, his want to finish his secondary education outside a junior novitiate, kept him at Cathedral until graduation. Brother Arnold's personal relationship with Brother Michael, the director of student activities ot Cathedral, and Brother Edwin, senior class moderator, opened to Brother Arnold a wider picture of the Brother's life. Interested in the work of the Brothers and their involvement with their students, Brother Arnold entered the novitiate with his close high school companion Brother Warren, on July 3, 1948.

Brother Arnold then spent seven months at Mont La Salle, the Brothers novitiate, where he was given the robe on January 25, 1949. The next three and a half years at Brother Arnold's training was at Saint Mary's College, where he earned his degree early through extra classes and summer sessions.



Brother Warren

A person of high scholastic merit, Brother Warren has given to Sacred Heart not only established departments of physics and mathematics, but motivation and concern to each one of his students.

Brother Warren attended Cathedral High School in Los Angeles and graduated in 1948. Although Brother Warren had to work after school, he was an active member of the newspaper, yearbook and photography staff, and played one year of football.

On July 3, 1948, Brother Warren entered the Christian Brothers' Mont La Selle Novitiate and was robed on January 25, 1949 with Brother Arnold. In 1953 Brother graduated from St. Mary's College with a Bachelor of Arts degree in mathematics.

Brother Warren's first teaching assignment was at Sacred Heart until 1954 when he was transferred to St. Mary's College High School in Berkley, and became prefect of the boarders. In 1956 Brother took on the job of Athletic Director at San Joaquin High School in Fresno. Brother Warren then was given a National Science Foundation Grant and gained a Master of Science degree in education at the University of Pennsylvania in 1960. Returning again to teaching, Brother was stationed at Cathedral High School in Los Angeles in 1961, and Christian Brothers High School, Sacramento in 1962.

In 1963, Brother Warren earned another National Science Foundation Grant to the University of Notre Dame. There he gained a Master of Science degree in Mathematics. The fall of 1963 brought Brother Warren to Sacred Heart where he has been now for eleven years. Brother Warren has also traveled to all fifty states, Canada and eighteen foreign countries.

What does Brother Warren consider his role at SacredHeart to be?

"To prepare the students in whatever way I can for life after high school graduation whether it be college or otherwise. Since most of the students I have in class, because of the nature of the courses, end up in college, I hope they are well prepared for the life of a college student. I hope that they will also pick up other values that they can use throughout their lives."

"Whether it is socially or athletically, win or lose, we keep our spirit. Come to one of our sporting events, after every game we sing our Alma Mater to show our spirit, unity, and concern. And believe me, at your graduation ceremony, when you come to sing the Alma Mater for the last time, you'll wish you could go through it all again."

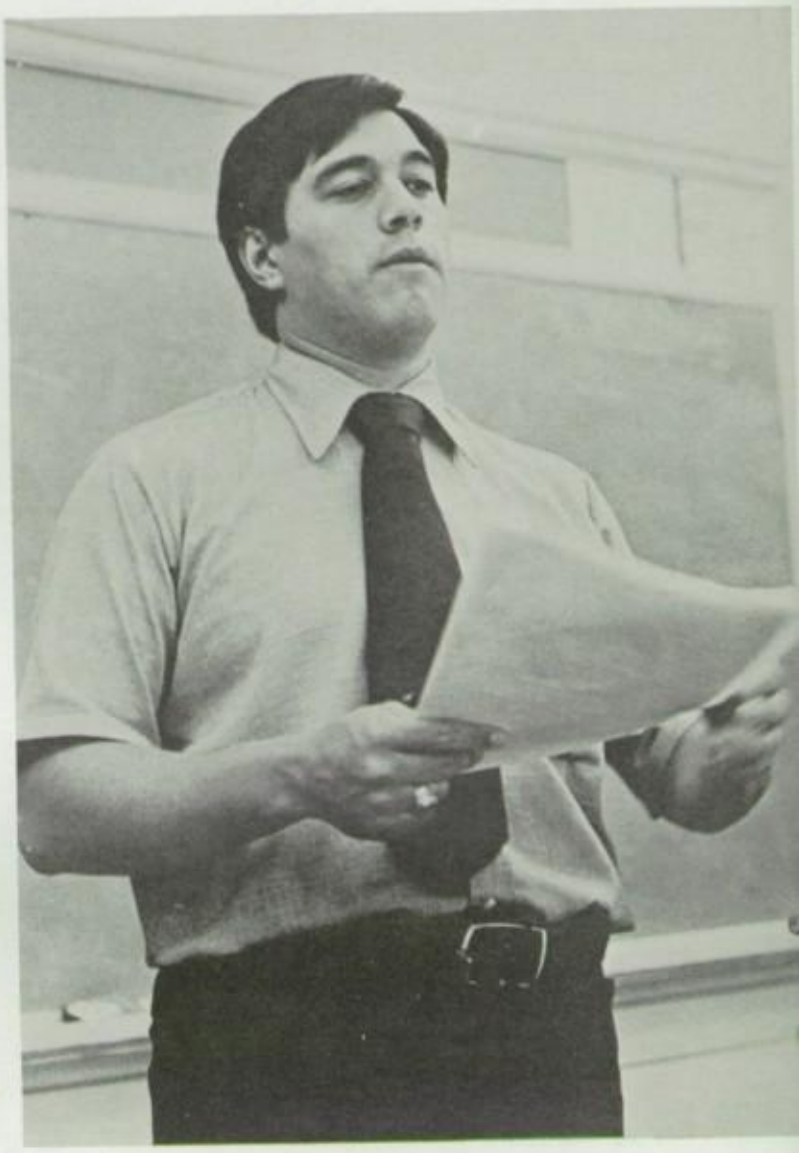
"I am grateful that by teaching here
I, too, am a student:
A student of youth, a student of life."

Hank Mireles

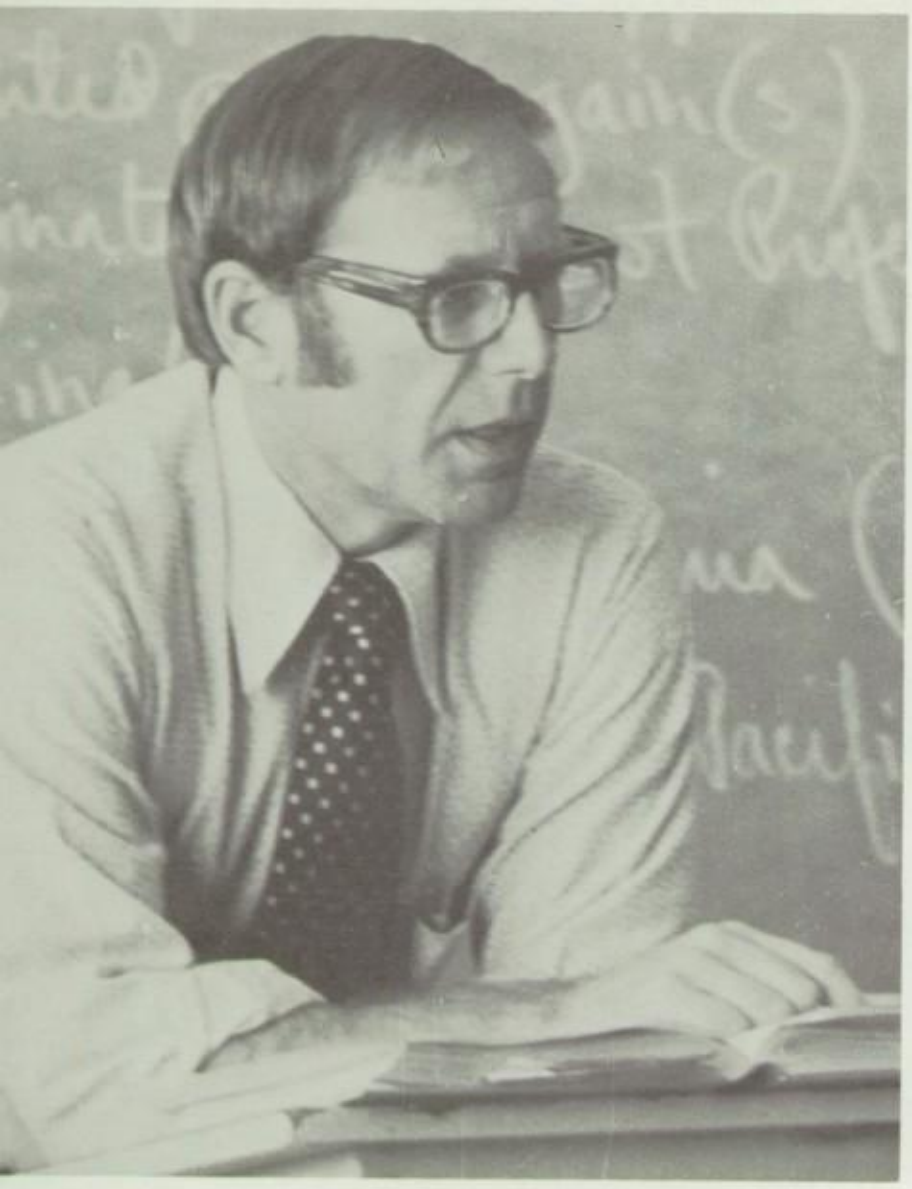


"Four years of one's life doesn't seem very long. For some, there was so much to do. To these I say that S.H. will always be here; your days are not yet over. Others found these years to an eternity. It's no wonder that reflections on Sacred Heart have been many -- those of whom they speak are too few. Sacred Heart is a living Spirit, I sincerely hope that means something to you."

Brother Jerome

"I have been particularly impressed by the spirit of the students at Sacred Heart. Although it sometime spills over into the classroom, with unfortunate effects, it is without a doubt the striking quality of the school."

Toby Wolf



"Sacred Heart has given to me many pleasant and rewarding experiences. The dedication and loyalty of its former and present day students cannot be measured in words."

James Koeppen

"The education offered at Sacred Heart is now one which allows the individual student to pursue the program of his choice; this along with experienced teachers, should fulfill the student's needs."

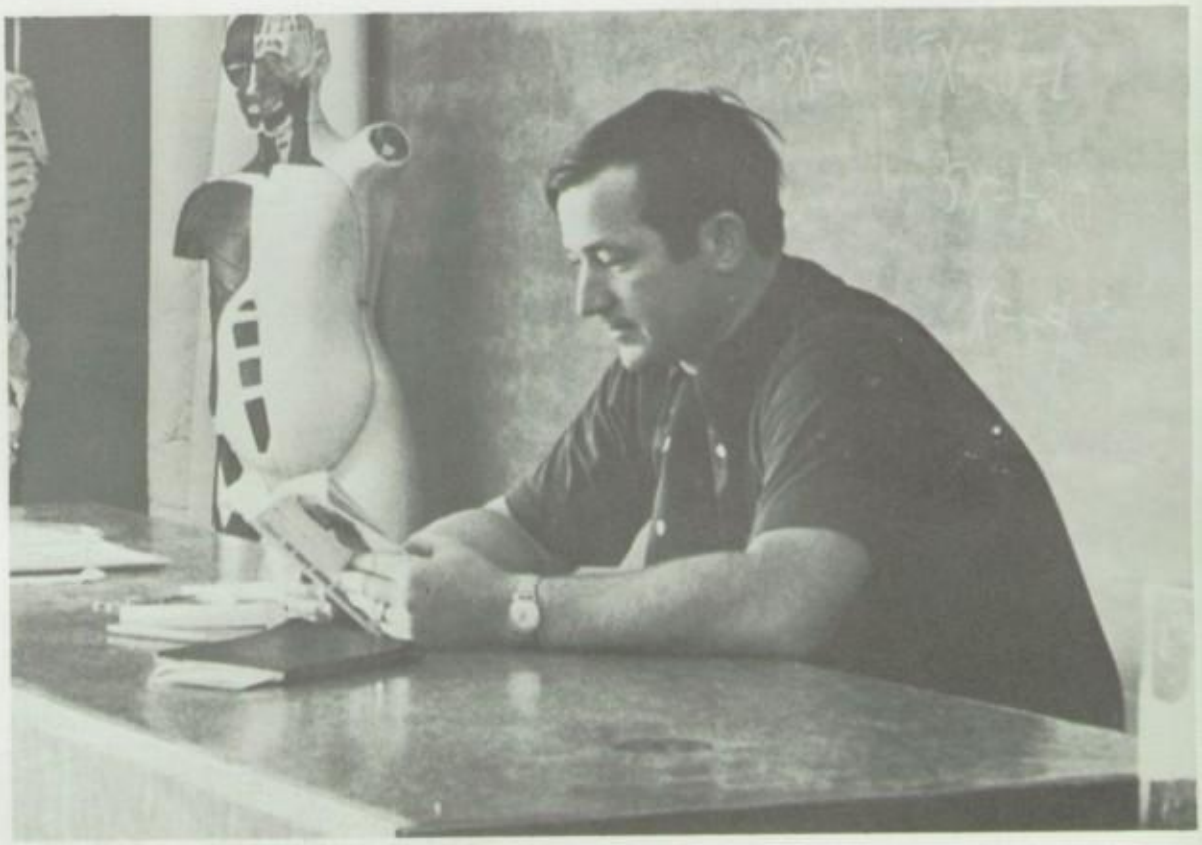
Dennis Harrington

"We are in a time when the control of our surroundings seems easy and desireable. Often understanding of secondary importance. Hopefully greater insight through education will show us the need to search for ways to live in harmony with nature rather than for ways to dominate it."

Gary Brown

"The dedication of the students, teachers, and administrators has created a tradition of family unity that is unique to S.H. This spirit of unity, is perhaps, the strongest asset of S.H.

George Cosmos



"Perserverance is the key to success. If this is all one learns, then his education is complete."

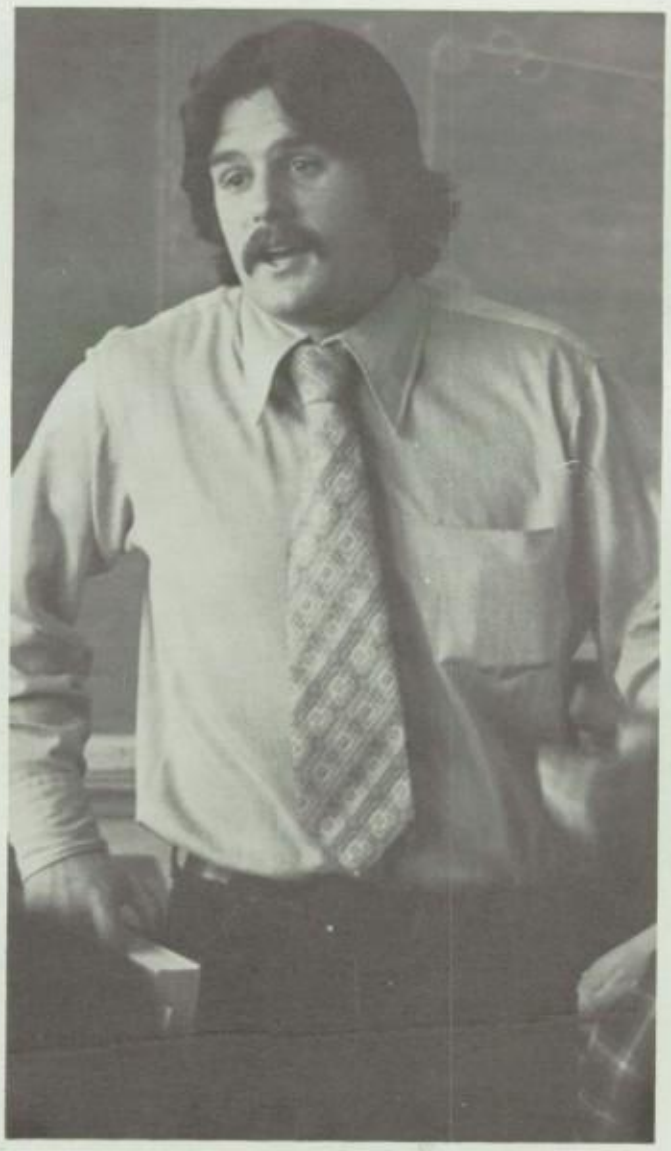
Kenneth Pitetti

"The cooperation, courtesy, and desire of the Irish athletes has made it a pleasure to be associated with the athletic program during the Centennial Year.

James Casey

"The first year at my old Alma Mater ('67) has been a good experience. Most students co-operate and the teachers share a mutual concern over their pupils' welfare. I look forward to many successful years at Sacred Heart."

Brother Albert



"Sacred Heart is not only an institution of formal education but also a place where dedicated men help boys through the difficult but enjoyable process of becoming men."

William Corkery

"Sacred Heart is truly unique for a student is not only provided with an excellent education but a sense of identity, a feeling of belonging to a community, a family --- not just a school. Through school spirit, student government, activities and athletics he grows from boyhood to manhood. Fortunate indeed is the student who attends Sacred Heart."

"Sacred Heart High School is a special place to be a teacher and counselor because of the unique, crazy, friendly, generous City kids here who make each day different from the one before it. I wouldn't trade teaching and, especially, counseling here for any other job in the world: you never know what to expect."

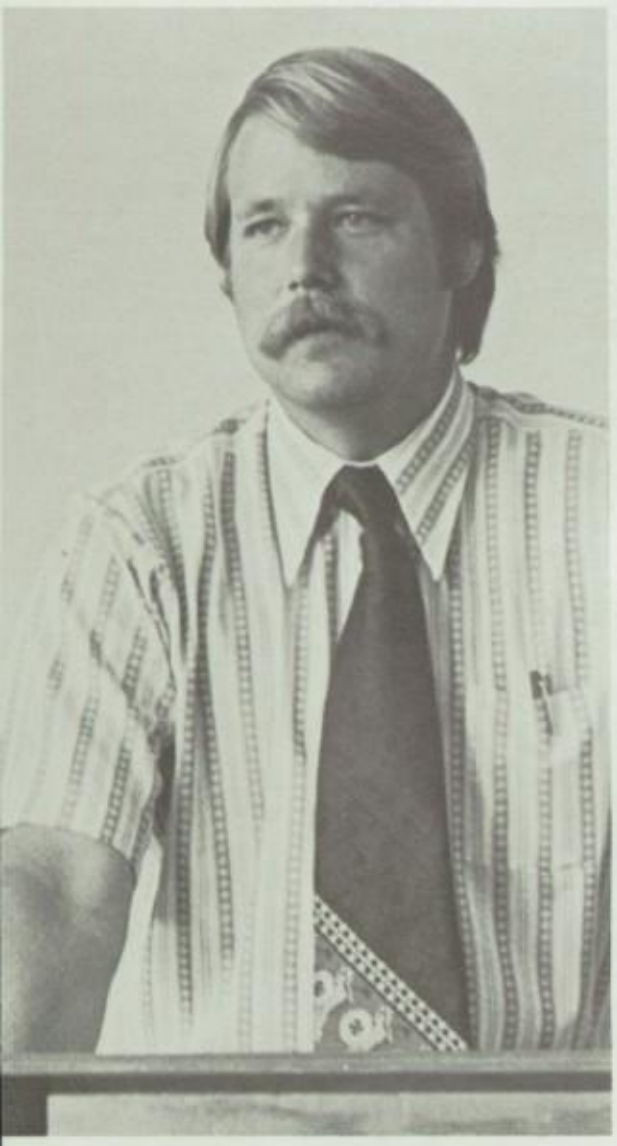
Brother Michael E. Tscheekar

"Sacred Heart High School is more than just an education, it is an experience. Of the many facets of this experience, I would like to highlight one that is little seen. At Sacred Heart, there is a spirit among the faculty members that is like no other school. The faculty members share not only a common concern for the students and for the school, they share and care about one another. They spent time together both in school and outside school. They know one another's families and share in the joys and sorrows of each other. Part of the credit for this unique spirit certainly belongs to the Christian Brothers who have gone out of their way to open the doors of their community from time to time to the faculty and their families. They have successfully attempted to promote a family spirit within the faculty which is one small part of the larger family that Sacred Heart is."

James Myers

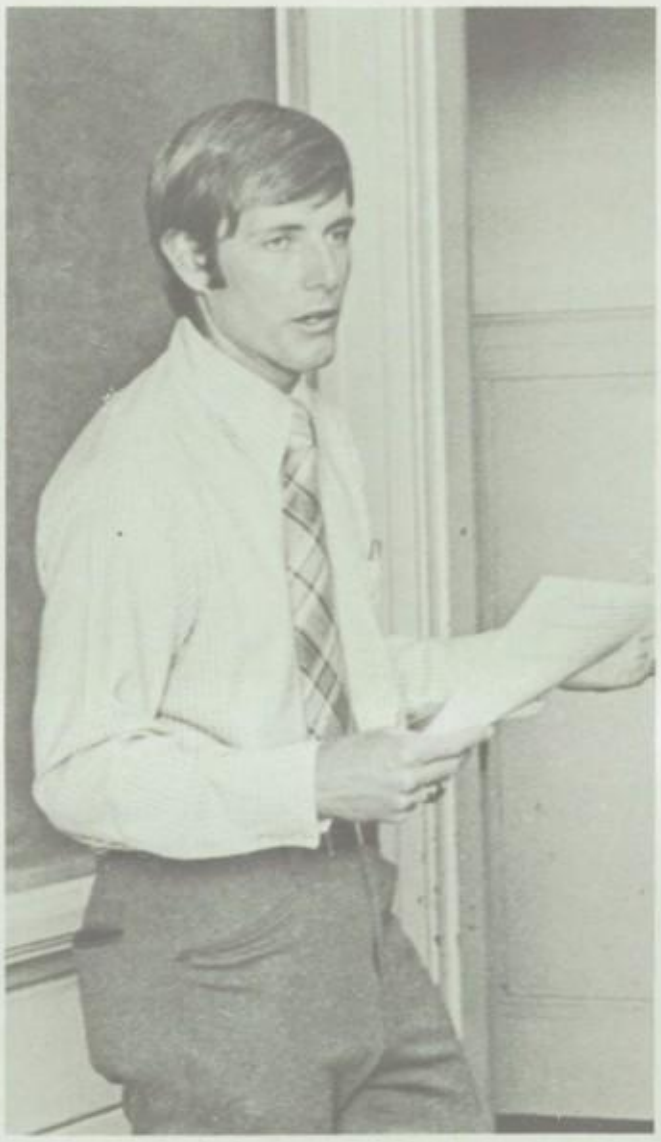
"I am very grateful to have had the opportunity to coach at Sacred Heart. When you put so much time and energy into something, it is a great feeling to know that other people are also concerned. When the rooting section says 'WE ARE SH', they mean it win, lose, or draw. As a coach this gives you a great feeling of togetherness, which is so important in athletics."

Robert Roehl



"Teaching and coaching at Sacred Heart has been a very rewarding experience for me. The last two years of football have been very frustrating for both the players and coaches. Under the circumstances it would have been very easy to give up, but they never did. Winning is important, but the fact that the players did their best and tried their hardest is all I can really ask for. I'm proud to be associated with Sacred Heart."

Michael Holmgren



"There exists a 'closeness' at Sacred Heart which makes it stand out among other schools. To witness the harmony between our administration, faculty, and student body, makes one optimistic about the chances of our being able to formalize and achieve common goals and ideals. It's a pleasure and a privilege to be a part of this unique, spirited institution."

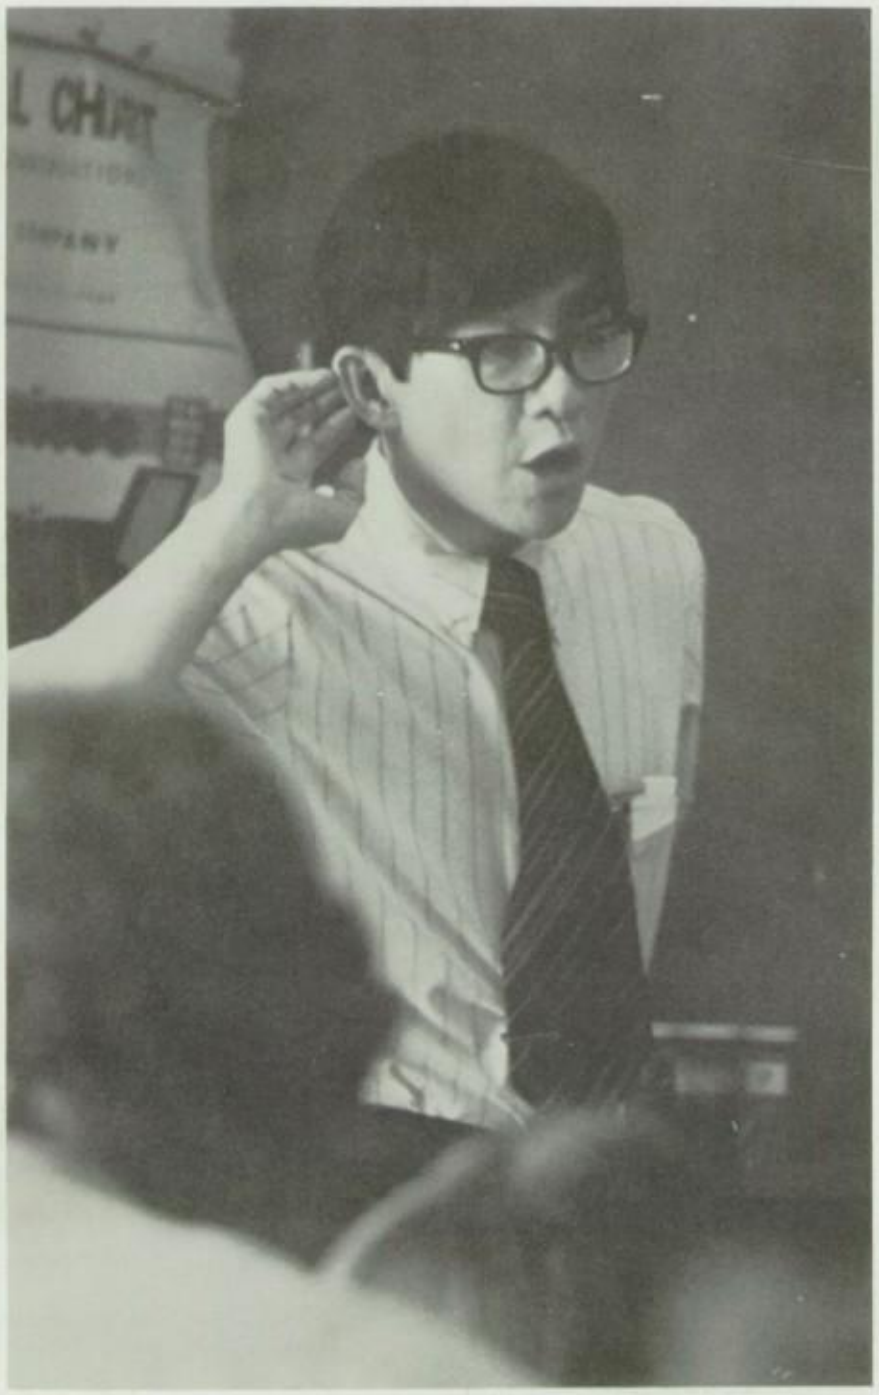
John J. Jamison

"Each and every school is unique. What I find unique about Sacred Heart is the quality school spirit. To see students who are proud of the school they attend gives the faculty the encouragement that the students take their education seriously."

Brother Kevin Berntson

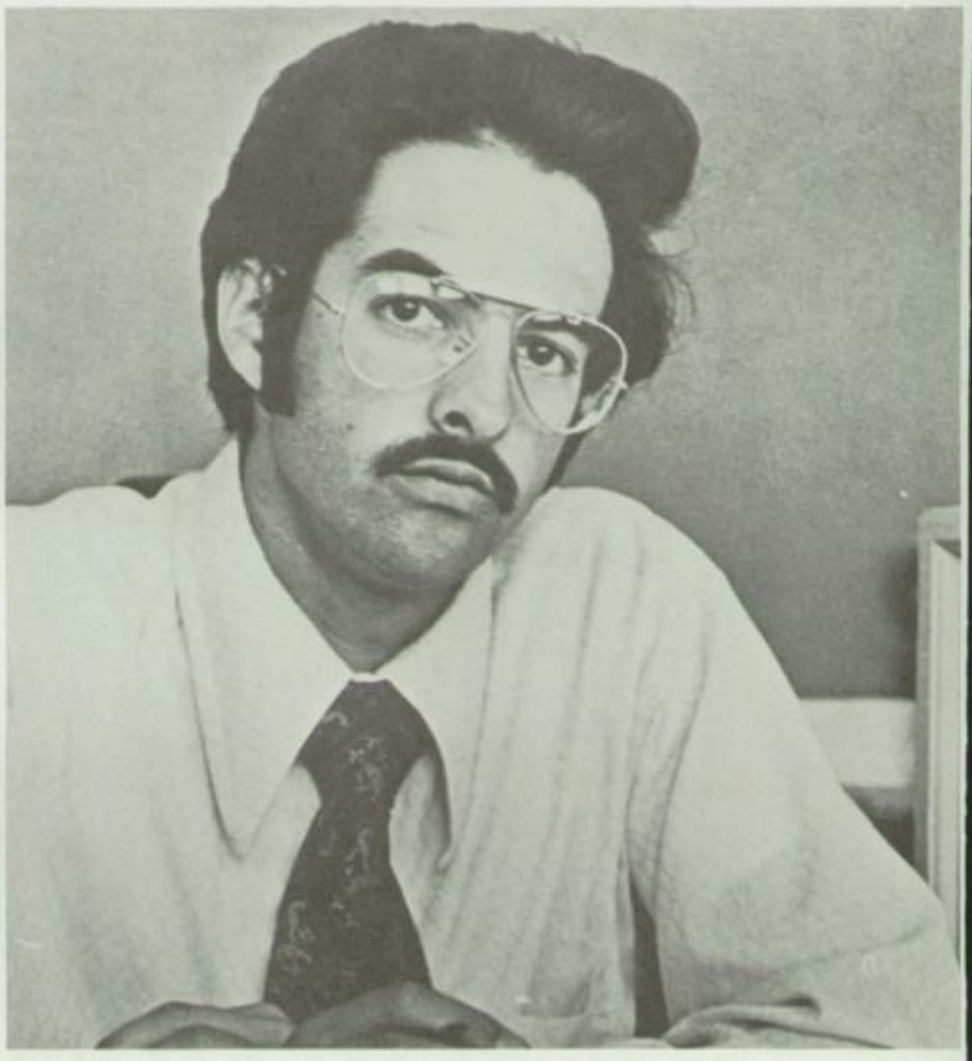
"Teaching chemistry is enjoyable but at times it can be a drudgery. It is the students, however, who constantly make teaching a rewarding experience. Here at Sacred Heart, we have students who with their frankness and honesty are willing to challenge a teacher and his ideas, both inside and outside the classroom. And it is this frankness and honesty that helps make the Sacred Heart student unique and distinctive."

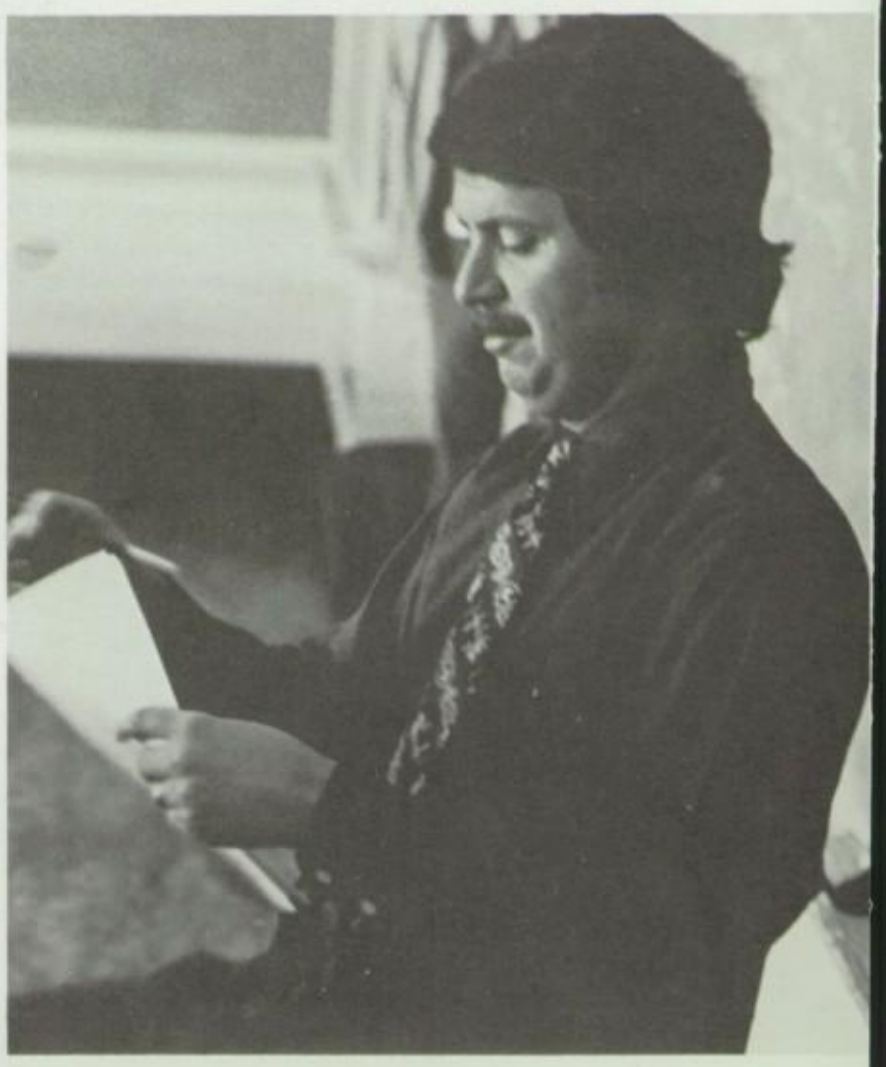
Emil Moy



"There is a certain something about Sacred Heart that stays with you for the rest of your life. Whether you want to label it as the spirit of the Brothers, the spirit of the athletic contest, or the spirit of comradeship, it is an experience that one will never forget."

Michael Otterstedt





"Spirit equals participation whether it be as a spectator, athletic participant, class officer, or club member."

Steve Ellison

"I find the Sacred Heart Students to be among the most congenial students that I have taught. Our students seem to have a fine sense of humor and easily reach out to others. They are responsive and friendly. I relish their warmth and respect."

Steven Wilson

Kenneth Hogarty

HISTORY

DONATED BY REVEREND C. E. KENNEDY
CLASS OF 1894
IN MEMORY OF THE PIONEER BROTHERS

St. John Baptist De La Salle

More than three hundred years ago St. John Baptist De La Salle, regarded as the Patron of all Teachers, laid the foundation for free public schools and modern education. With his founding of the Christian Brothers schools, he raised teaching from a degrading occupation to an honorable profession and established the "right" of poor children to be given an education without cost.

Though he was conscience of its limitations, he advanced the idea of simultaneous teaching of an entire class in a subject, rather than the prevailing plan of individual teacher-child instruction.

Among his many innovations he sponsored and conducted schools for delinquent youths as an alternative to sending them to jail, opened Sunday schools to benefit children who labored during the week, and began instruction in the trades, so those even partially educated could make a living as artisans. He established the first training schools for the education of teachers and prepared rules of conduct, obediance, and discipline for the Brothers and the pupils.

He designed the Brothers' style of dress to remind them of their vows, and indicate to the public their role in society and the church.

To De La Salle, though, religion was the very essence of education, and a teacher's primary duty was to instill virture in his pupils. His aim was not just to impart knowledge, but also to inculate the Christian ideals. He opened the door of hope for teeming masses sunk in ignorance, depravity, and want by creating a system of education practical in its form, Christian in its aims, efficient in its methods, and based upon a body of trained teachers willing to dedicate their lives to education.

De La Salle's tremendous dedication was slow in evolving, but the stress and pressure of his educational adventure only transformed the overt kindling in his heart into a ravaging conflagation that enabled him to persevere. His own words, simplicit and moving, exemplify his life to best. "God, who conducts all things with wisdom and sweetness, and who does not force the inclination of man, wished to employ me completely in the work of education; but He did it imperceptibly and in a long drawn out way, in such ways that one commitment led to another without my having foreseen it at the start."

In the beginnings of the Christian Brothers, more than two centuries ago, De La Salle gathered 10 men who pledged themselves with him, to lives devoted to teaching the poor. Now Christian Brothers are in 5 continents, and number over 18,000; bringing instruction, inspiration and zeal for the salvation of souls to more than 3/4 of a million students in 88 countries.

It is hard to believe that one man is responsible for this, but St. John Baptist De La Salle was unique. That is truly unfortunate . . . if only there were more.

1874 - 1900

Sacred Heart was founded by the Christian Brothers to meet the educational needs of the growing "city by the bay." Education at this time was not provided for everyone. Only the middle-class and wealthy had the money to send their children to schools or provide tutors. The Christian Brothers following the principles of their patron saint, St. John Baptist De La Salle, established Sacred Heart College for the needs of the deprived boys of San Francisco.

On January 5, 1874, the new college threw open its doors for admission of students. At the close of the first week nearly seven hundred pupils were registered. These students were placed in one of the four departments of study offered at Sacred Heart. The departments were the collegiate, a three year course; the academic, a four year course; the commercial, a two year course open to graduates of grammar schools; and the preparatory or grammar school course in four grades open to boys of ten years or over.

Some members of the faculty on the opening day were Brothers Cianan, Gustaus (president, vice-president), Walter, Julius, Euphrasius, Bosonis, Agnon (at this time professor of psychology at St. Mary's College in Oakland), and Nicholas J. O'Connell, grandson of the great Irish liberator.

The usual pattern of life for the boys in those early decades usually found them entering the labor market by the time they were fourteen years of age or even earlier. If the students had received sufficient education to read, write, and do arithmetic it was considered enough education for placing them as apprentices in one of the trades or commercial establishments in San Francisco. Since the age for admission to Sacred Heart was ten years of age, the number of graduates during this quarter century was relatively small.

The first commencement excercises were held in the college auditorium on the evening of Wednesday, May 27, 1874. However, Sacred Heart had been operating for less than five months and no students had yet graduated. The first students to graduate received their diplomas from the commercial department the following year. Among the graduates of 1875 were Richard L. Barry, Edward Craven, Joseph Donohue, Matthew C. Batemen, John C. Batemen, William B. McKee and John C. Ougnen. The collegiate department graduated its first students in 1876. Richard L. Barry and Albert A. Touchard were among those who received certificates. The graduates of 1877 included William D. O'Kane, Andrew J. Dean, and Vincent P. Buckley. Mr. Dean and Mr. Buckley received their degrees the following year from St. Mary's College and were the first graduates of that institution to take up the study of medicine.

From 1874 to 1901 the total number of students listed as graduates numbered only four hundred seventy-five, a little over twice the number who now receive diplomas in a single year.

It is interesting to note that not until 1893 is there a record of an interschool athletic event. The first event was the first football game played in San Francisco between Sacred Heart and St. Ignatius. A Sacred Heart man by the name of Kennedy (who later became a parish priest at St. Paul's Church) led Sacred Heart to a fourteen to four victory over St. Ignatius. The game was played at the site where the Townhouse Hotel now stands.

During the early 1900's, San Francisco continued its growth and reputation as a hospitable city. Most everyone, students included, rode a bicycle in those days although some of the new "horseless carriages" made their appearance.

Athletics at Sacred Heart began to emerge as a regular school activity with the formation of the baseball team in 1900. The team began its existense by beating St. Ignatius on Washington's Birthday with the score of seven to five. This led to fourteen more wins and only two losses. Whenever the team won a game Brother Hosea, their coach, presented the players with holy cards. If they lost they were awarded with two or three extra problems in trigonometry. This might explain their successful season.

The baseball team of 1910 appeared on the baseball diamond as a member of the Academic Athletic League which included other San Francisco teams. That season Sacred Heart won twenty-three, lost four and tied three. They beat every team in San Francisco and lost only to such teams outside the city as St. Mary's, Phoenix, Santa Clara and Fort Baker.

On April 18, 1906 San Francisco experienced the greatest catastrophe in its history. Along with much of San Francisco between Van Ness Avenue and the Ferry Building, Sacred Heart College, then located at Eddy and Larkin Street, was destroyed in the fire which followed the earthquake. The only salvaged items from the ashes was a photograph album and some old tuition accounts.

In the years following San Francisco devoted its entire energy to reconstruction of the city. Sacred Heart held classes in a relocated building behind Sacred Heart Church at Fell and Fillmore Streets.

Up until 1913 Sacred Heart College occupied the temporary structure at Fell and Fillmore Streets. A new location for the school had been purchased at Ellis and Franklin Streets. The building had been finished and opened in 1914. The original plans had only provided for two stories which was found to be inadequate for the needs of the students and faculty. In 1918 Archbishop Riordan made plans for further expansion which was continued under the supervision of Archbishop Hanna. A third story was added to the building along with new facilities for various science classes.

During this period of reconstruction San Francisco grew and so did Sacred Heart and the students who attended it. The first basketball team of Sacred Heart was formed in 1911, with only two interschool games scheduled - both with the Wildcats of Ignatius. This marked the first time the two institutions met on the basketball court. Sacred Heart defeated S.I. in both contests with scores of 38-16 and 34-16.

On the baseball diamond Sacred Heart won the San Francisco Championship by defeating St. Ignatius 9-6 and taking possession of the A. J. Reach baseball trophy. The Blue & White of S. H. were led by Harry "Home Run Kid" Heilmann, class of 1912, who connected for three hits including a home run against the Wildcats. Heilmann played baseball after high school and became a major league Hall of Famer playing for such teams as the Detroit Tigers and Cincinati Reds. Harry Heilmann was joined by Joseph Cronin who graduated from S.H. in 1924 and became a member of the Hall of Fame in 1956. Sacred Heart claims the honor of being the only high school in the country to have two graduates in the Baseball Hall of Fame.

During the school's fourth decade of existence clubs and dramatic productions played a major role along with sports at Sacred Heart College. Among the clubs were the Azaria's Reading Club, the drama society, the Commercial Society, and the combined yearbook and newspaper of the school, the Blue & White.

This early decade of Sacred Heart College marked influential events such as the Christian Brothers Jubilee, celebrated in 1913, which marked fifty years of service by the Brothers on the Pacific Coast. Another important event at this time was the opening the Panama Pacific Exposition which many Sacred Heart students attended. The biggest confrontation had ended on November 11, 1918. Sacred Heart students were among the throngs of people who converged onto Market Street to celebrate the ending of World War I.

The 20's was a period of transition for Sacred Heart High School. In 1923 the school dropped the title of 'College' because it then became mostly a secondary education institution or 'high school.' A record of students viewpoints, their activities and accomplishments can be found in the student newspaper the Blue & White which first appeared in newspaper form in 1922.

The front page of the initial Blue & White vowed the intention with which the paper was being printed. It went as follows, "With this issue of the Blue & White News we make our vow to the journalistic world. We aim to please, to keep a live, healthy school spirit and to enliven school life."

A reflection of the times is an article which appeared in January, 1923, commenting on plans to build a bridge to join San Francisco and Marin County. "This would be a very good means of using the extensive areas of that side of the bay," wrote the author of the article, then he added, "But in my opinion the other bridge (San Francisco-Oakland) is far more necessary at the present time." Still on the subject of bridges a contest was held for the lower division classmen on the best means for joining San Francisco and the East Bay. The most favored opinion centered on underwater tubes which they termed as "Victory Tubes." With the coming of BART their dream comes true.

On November 28, 1922, the city newspaper headlines proclaimed "Sacred Heart

3, St. Ignatius 0" which broke a three year losing streak to the Wildcats. The football team won the annual game in the next five years.

Debating became a major student activity in this period and the topics were reflections of the times. In 1924, John O'Kane, representing Sacred Heart, won the Northern California-Nevada District Championship in the national oratorial contests and went on to meet the winners from the Southern California, Arizona, Oregon, Washington, and Idaho in the Pacific Coast finals.

Former students were also in the news. Dolph Camilli was playing for the city's baseball team the San Francisco Seals in 1927. That same year Sacred Heart alumnus Brother Gregory was named the Pacific Coast region as provincial.

1929 saw the Golden Jubilee of the Blue & White magazine. From the first edition of 1879, the Blue & White has flourished into "one of the foremost publications of its kind in the bay region."

The 30's brought about the great depression." For the student at school having just a nickel was the luxury of the times.

Being mainly a high school at this period, Sacred Heart was used as a college preparatory institution. The depression did not get the students' spirit down. High school life was exciting as ever. Reflections of this time came from an article in the Blue & White November 2, 1932, an issue on the Senior Formal Dance, as follows:

"Talk of the Senior Formal has been heard among the 'high and mighty!' It resolves itself down to a very simple problem; spend $15 to 'put on the dog' for one night and then walk the streets dead broke for the next five weeks."

In 1933 the school yearbook was eliminated, because, as explained by Brother Victor, principal (1932-1938), "The expense that such an enterprise would incur could be put to much greater good in this period of economic strife."

The class of 1933 has produced many successful graduates including the present mayor of San Francisco, Joseph Alioto. He was the Student Body President, on the honor roll, and a member of the varsity debating team.

World War II started on September 1, 1939 and a great many Sacred Heart men served in this war for their flag and country. A commemorative plaque with the names of those alumnus who died in the wars can be found enshrined in the main hall of Sacred Heart High School on Ellis and Franklin Streets.

1940 - 1949

The 1940's brought the United States into a war which was already engulfing Europe and was soon to spread into the Pacific. Along with the entire nation, World War II brought great changes into the lives of Sacred Heart students. The student body was repeatedly called upon to support the numerous war loans while defense stamps and war bonds were often used as scholastic awards. In the homes, food stamps, and rationing became a way of life.

Although the students had to do without many of the "frills" associated with high school days, there were still monthly dances in the auditorium where students enjoyed musical selections as Stardust, Temptation, and Twelfth Street Rag. The class of 1940 chose the "King of Swing" Benny Goodman and his orchestra for the Senior Formal Dinner-Dance at the Mark Hopkins Hotel instead of Glen Miller and his band, then playing at the Palace Hotel.

This decade also brought about new changes for Sacred Heart. New courses had been added such as journalism, advanced mathematics, physics, and other sciences. The class of 1945 broke the seventy-two year tradition of having school jackets by ordering class sweaters. More organizations made the scene like the glee club, camera club, and a forensic society. A new school band had been formed in the early part of 1948.

On the gridiron, the 'Fighting Irish' greeted the forties with their victory over the Wildcats. This marked the first victory over arch-rival St. Ignatius since 1936. The same team coached by "Spud" Spalding, went through the season ending up the winners of the Northern California Catholic Football Championship. Another winning team for the Irish was the baseball team as they took the A.A.A. Crown at this time. A new tradition had its start in 1946. The Bruce-Mahoney Trophy had been initiated by Sacred Heart's student body president Frank Antonini and St. Ignatius' student body president Frank Fraher. They agreed that a trophy be awarded representing the three major sports played at each school and serve as a reminder of the rivalry. The Bruce-Mahoney Trophy is awarded every year to the school that wins the majority of games played. The trophy was named as a memorial to a former alumnus of each school, who while at their respected schools were outstanding as leaders and later died in World War II in the service of his country. Jerry Mahoney of Sacred Heart and William Bruce of St. Ignatius were selected.

The forties also marked the seventy-fifth anniversary of the Christian Brothers service on the Pacific Coast. This Diamond Jubilee marked the excellence in devotion to high quality education and the Christian way of life.

Throughout the world, 1950-51 was set aside as the La Sallain year. It was a year in which the Brothers, in special measure, paid tribute to the founder of the Christian Brothers, St. John Baptist De La Salle. Their institution shows the workings of the founder's principles and devotion that are still used today.

Among the student body's achievements for this decade was a fine display of Sacred Heart's athletic ability in winning the A.A.A. baseball championship. The athletic program took its biggest leap forward during the fifties with the aid of fine athletes and coaches.

In 1951 the Brothers' house was relocated from Ellis and Franklin Streets to the corner of Ellis and Gough Streets. The lot occupied by the former residence was used to construct a gymnasium which still stands today. It is interesting to note that basketball games were held in the school's auditorium before the construction.

January 5, 1954 marked the school's eightieth anniversary. It was also the year for the Blue & White newspaper to celebrate its fiftieth anniversary of publication as a newspaper.

Being more of a college preparatory than just secondary education, Sacred Heart's students that graduated during this period chose to further their schooling at such colleges as St. Mary's College, a Christian Brothers institution; the Universities of San Francisco and Santa Clara, both under Jesuit direction.

Still with the faculty of today who were at Sacred Heart during the 1950's are Brothers Columban, Conrad, and Edmund.

1960 - 1969

The 1960's were a time of great cultural and economic growth. Events which had evident affect on the students were the assination of President John Kennedy and the landing of Apollo 11 on the moon.

Scholastically students at Sacred Heart were awarded $72,000 in State Scholarships in one year, an outstandino achievement for a single school.

Social events, such as dances and rallies, played an important role in the 60's. Sports became the number one pastime of the students, both athlete and fan. This decade brought about successful teams to Sacred Heart. The football team of 1965-66 took the Round-Robin A.A.A. Championship. On the basketball court the 'Fighting Irish' proved to everyone that they were number one by winning the A.A.A. Crown in 1962, 1963, 1964, and 1968. On the baseball diamond the Irish took the league pennant in 1960 and 1961.

In April, 1969, Brother Arnold, principal since 1965, officially announced the termination of Sacred Heart's affiliation with the A.A.A. (Academic Athletic Association). The school soon joined the W.C.A.L. (Western Catholic Athletic League) which includes Riordan and St. Ignatius.

The year of 1968 saw the Christian Brothers celebrate the centennial of their appearance in San Francisco. It commemorated the arrival of Brother Justin and seven volunteer Brothers to take over St. Mary's College and revitalize Catholic education in the Northern California-Oregon diocese.

The final chapter of Sacred Heart's first one hundred years draws to an end during these years. The long list successful graduates who have walked the halls of Sacred Heart has proven that the school has played an important role in education in the San Francisco Bay Area.

During the 1970's the spirit of the student body excelled. A spirit of unity was felt around the school as the students saw all their teams successful in the W.C.A.L. Spirit was also present when the lay faculty of Sacred Heart along with other lay faculties of other Catholic high schools went on strike. The associated student body of Sacred Heart banned together and formed their own system of substitute education. Honor students served as teachers. This program only lasted for two weeks and during this time students organized a walk out calling for Mayor Alioto's help. The mayor complied and soon after substitutes for the striking teachers were brought in. This brought about another walk out by the students, after which the administration had to take action and close the school. A meeting was called between the administration, lay faculty, and the superintendent of schools, and the students and their parents. After this meeting the strike was soon resolved one week before Christmas 1972.

The varsity football team of 1972 proved to the other teams in the W.C.A.L. that Sacred Heart was indeed not to be underestimated. Despite their three win and three loss season the Irish beat the previous year's league champions, Mitty High School, and St. Ignatius, teams which were considered much stronger teams.

The basketball team took everything in sight in 1972. After a seven win and three loss practice season the team went into league play with high hopes. It proved to be a fantastic eleven win and one loss season. The Irish beat St. Francis High School of Mountain View, the only team to beat S.H. in league play, for the W.C.A.L. Crown. After winning the championship the Irish went into the Sectional Playoffs which included teams from other leagues who had won their respected championships. The team won their first three games in order to meet the team that won the Central Coast Championship the year before. That team was Alisal High School of Salinas, California. With brilliant ball handling and perfect execution the Irish of Sacred Heart became the new champions by the score of 54-58.

The celebration of Sacred Heart's Centennial was drawing near. The moderator of the alumni association held a contest for the students to design a seal which would commemorate the event. Two students combined their respected designs and made the official seal. They were Salvador Abaunza and Gary Bell, both of the class of 1974.

On January 5, 1974 Archbishop McGucken and twenty other priests (alumni and friends of the school) concelebrated a Mass in honor of Sacred Heart High School and the Christian Brothers. Many past graduates attended the Mass along with friends and supporters of the school. A reunion was held in the school after the Mass.

The year 1974 is the closing era of Sacred Heart's first one-hundred years and the end of four years of study and old friendships for the class of 1974. They will be the one-hundredth graduating class in the one-hundredth and first commencement excercises for Sacred Heart High School.

JAMES DUIGNAN DIES
Succumbs After Long Illness

Loss Mourned By Senior Class

On the morning of November 1, James Duignan of Senior Room 245 was called to his eternal reward after a long and painful illness.

His loss was mourned by his friends and fellow students. His popularity around the school was very great and the members of his class expressed their bereavement by attending the wake in a body on the eve of his burial.

The funeral was held on Thursday, November 3, from Saint Paul's Church. Reverend Father Hogan was celebrant of Requiem High Mass. The entire Senior Class, numbering 150, accompanied by their teachers acted as a guard of honor at the funeral. After the services they marched out of the church and lined up on Valley Street and stood at attention while the funeral procession passed along. Many of the students attended the funeral in Santa Clara Cemetery.

Jim was very popular as a student and interested in athletics. He always typified the real Sacred Heart spirit. His death came as a shock to the students but everyone is confident that he is enjoying the eternal reward prepared for him by

Book Drive Nets Valuable Returns For S. H. Library

Map of Brothers' Schools Being Shown

In a drive which has shown the willingness of the Seniors to co-opreate in any way with every activity, the book drive for the library was judged a success by Moderator Brother Arthur.

The Seniors so far are leading the school but we are certain that when the other classes begin to dig in they will overwhelm the library with contributions.

The results of the drive are: Seniors, One complete set of the Encyclopedia Britannica; One complete set of the Catholic Encyclopedia; Two Catholic dictionaries, and 13 other good books; the Juniors, One book; the Sophomores, seven books; the Freshmen, eleven books.

Any student may receive a library card at any time.

A very interesting and instructive set of maps, depicting the various schools conducted by the Brothers all over the world, has been prepared and is now being shown to the students by Brother Arator, Principal.

These maps show the location of the twelve hundred schools taught by twenty thousand Brothers in 56 different nations. There are 62 prov-

Petersen Wins State Contest

Another addition was made recently to Sacred Heart's streak of winning prizes this year. This particular contest was sponsored by San Francisco State College; the topic was "Why Go to College Now?"

Although George Petersen expects to be in Uncle Sam's college of war before the end of the vacation period, he entered the contest for Sacred Heart. Petersen, a student in Room 453, was the only boy to place among the first six. He was fifth in the contest, receiving five dollars in war stamps. William Hopkins of Room 356 will graduate at the end of summer school; he received hon-

Sacred Heart Boy Becomes A Hero

James Costello, senior of Room 447 recently proved himself to be a true hero. While week-ending at Almaden, James rescued a San Francisco girl from the waters of a near-by creek. The girl had become momentarily confused while rowing, and fell into the water. Fully clothed, our heroic student plunged in, and pulled the young lady ashore. Artificial respiration was not necessary, due to Costello's quick thinking and action.

Bill Sheehan and Charles Smith, fellow students of James, stood by ready to render assistance, but that was unnecessary. Costello's coolness and unhesitating action undoubtedly averted a tragedy.

The faculty and members of the Sacred Heart student body wish to extend condolences to the family of Bob Markovich who died recently; also to Al Ujcic of Room 357 on the death of his brother; and to Eugene Henry of Room 258 on the death of his father.

GREEN WAVE DOWNS WILDCATS

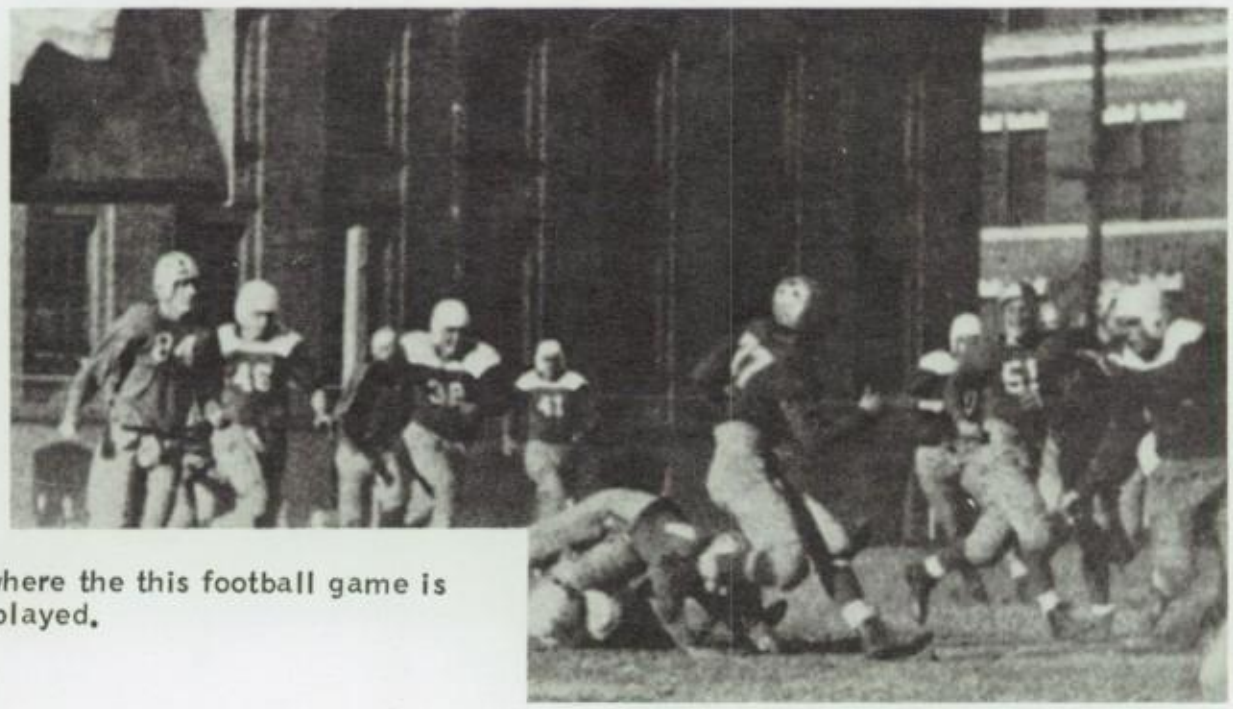
Irish Win First Game in Five Years

Sacred Heart, for over a decade a sure bet for cellar position, arose with a powerful offensive to repel a slow but rugged St. Ignatius eleven by a score of 10-0 before five thousand prep fans in the opening game of the 1940 prep football season.

This victory for the Irish was the first win in five years since that memorable day back in 193 when they smashed Lowell's title hopes with a 6-0 victory. It was also 12 years since the Fighting Irish beat their arch-rivals from the hill top.

Sacred Heart proved to be too fast and tricky for their heavier opponents who could only penetrate Irish territory two times in the entire fracas. The Irish ran all their plays from a modified point formation which proved in the end to be the down fall of the enemy.

MAIL MUST GO THROUGH! That's idea in mind of Jerry Pierce with ball (arrow), star Sacred Heart quarterback, as, with determined face, he attempts to shake off two St. Ignatius Wildcats. Sacred Heart beat St. Ignatius, 12-6.



Note where the this football game is being played.

Irish Take Double Victory From S. I.

After five barren years, five years of fruitless toil and endeavors, the "Shine for '39" cagers defeated their traditional rivals from the hill 24 to 17. With surprising ease, ease that came not from smoothness or experience, but from that old will to win, the Irishers fought their very hearts out to gain that win that means so much to them every year.

Led by their flashy, hard fighting sophomore, center Gene Hannon, the boys literally tore apart the defense thrown up by the "Csts." Gene gave a performance of basketball that should mark him as one of the leading centers in the A.A.A. loop. This boy follows with a vengeance and shoots with deadly accuracy and undoubtedly is the main cog in the Irish offense. This does not mean Gene is the whole team, definitely not! Bissetti, Pierovich, Ryan and McMackin are the very essential parts that make Gene look so outstanding. Bissetti's eye and his fight under the basket are parts that keep the Irish on top. Jackie Ryan and Bud Pierovich are without a doubt two of the finest ball players in the city. Both have finesse in ball handling and collect the very necessary field goals with deadly regularity. McMackin is one of the best defense men in these parts. The inability of opposing men to take a set shot is due to Charlie's guarding and alert following. Indeed, the Irish machine rolls only when every part is working in perfect order.

The Irish obtained their lead when a field goal was sunk by Mickey Ryan advancing the score from five to eight; this lead was cut down many times but never passed and once that lead was established it was never relinquished.

The Irish juggernaut has finally come into its own and without a doubt is going to be very hard to

TAME THOSE LIONS

Sacred Heart Loses Close One To Eagles in Opening Tilt, 7-6

Through the brilliant 54 yard run of Bobby Soules the Washington Eagles were able to outscore the Sacred Heart Irish by one point in their opening tilt of the season. Aside from this it was the fellows from Ellis and Franklin who showed the best team because of their passing attack spirited by the eager hands of Augie Bullwinkle and Ray White, and the expert footwork of Wendy Wentworth and Bill Morones.

Wendy Wentworth (8) reels off 11 yards against the Eagles while Ray Bell (80) advances on him.

The Eagles certainly didn't come up to expectations while the high spirited Irish put their scarce talent to good use. Can you imagine playing with fellows thirty pounds heavier than you? Well, this is what the Irish-Eagle tilt amounted to. The boys from Ellis and Franklin had a line of a 163 pound average while the big brutsers from the Richmond played host to a line of 19[illegible] pounders.

Passes, Irish Specialty

Sacred Heart employed a great many plays, among which were line plunges, around end drives, and short but effective passes. If they kept up the good work the Irishmen will be a great threat because a few passes from the hands of F[illegible] or Wendy Wentworth can do a lot of damage if they get in the way [illegible]

Representing Sacred Heart in KYA's newest radio show devoted entirely to high sch sports is Don Lucey. This is heard at 10:15 and is directed by Bill Brown, Sports a News Editor of KYA. Irish Baseball Nine In Third Place

As the first half of the baseball league passes, we find Sacred Heart in third place, trailing Balboa, Poly and St. Ignatius, but still headed for the city championship, which is by no means cinched for anybody. The Irish have played consistent baseball, winning four games and losing four, and seem to get stronger as the season ages.

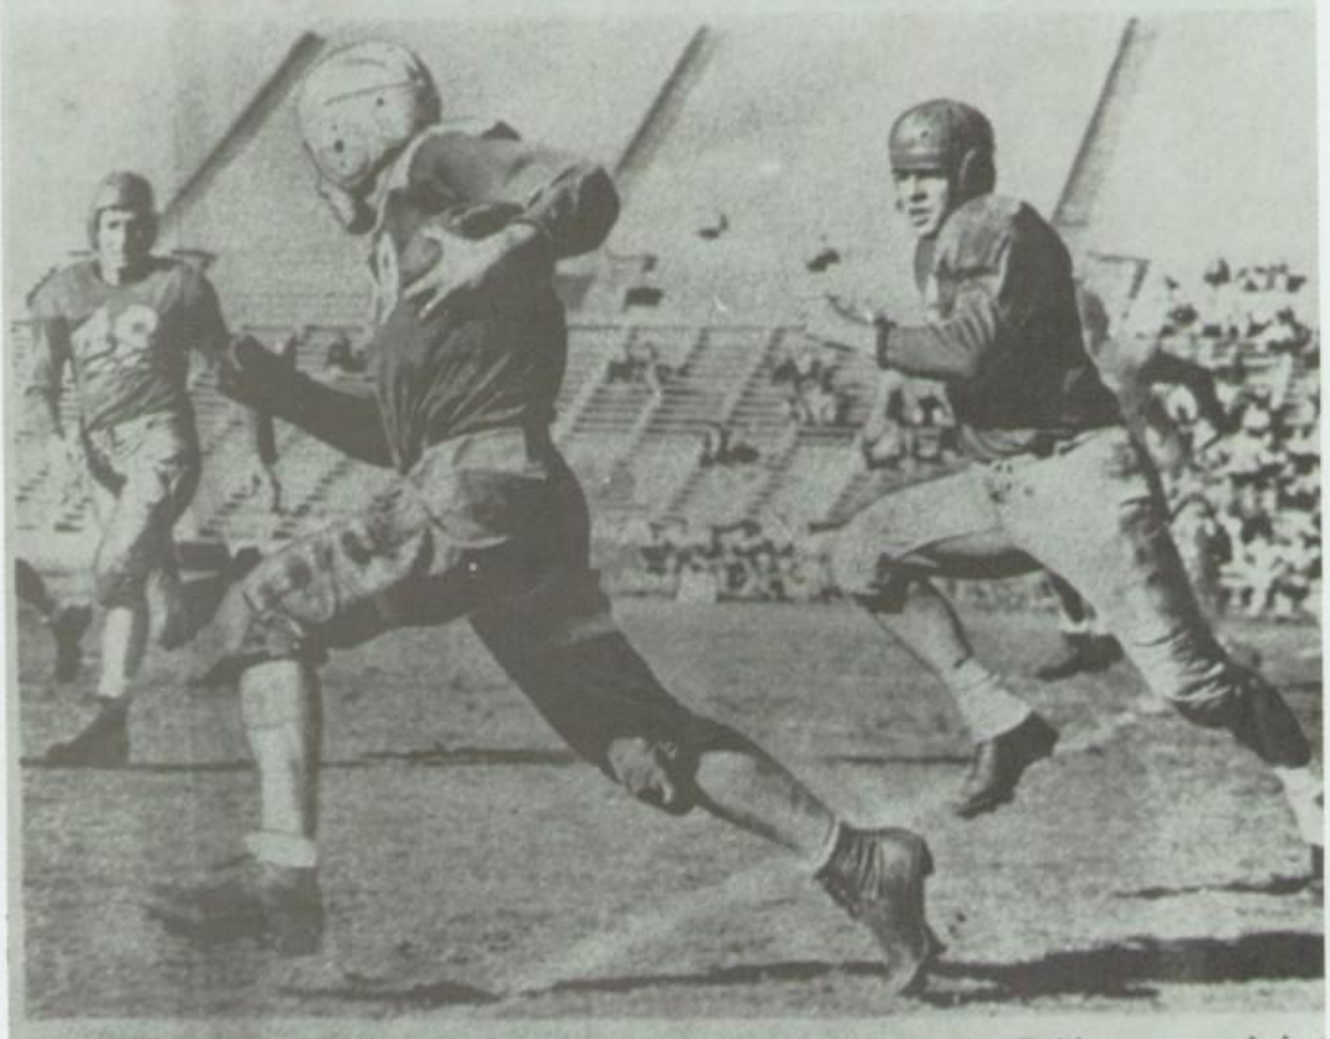
Poly Game

The Irish opened their campaign against Polytechnic and lost 3 to 0, being limited to three hits by Poly's ace moundsman, while the Parrots whacked Flack's offerings for eight hits and three runs.

Galileo Game

Our next game was with the Galileo Lions, who were favored to win because of supremacy in pitching, having Dido, "All-City" thrower, in the box. However, Flack out-pitched him, allowing only three runs, while Dido allowed five runs. Jake Caulfield, Irish second baseman, singled with the bags loaded to drive in the winning runs.

GAINING YARDS IN LINCOLN GAME



Jimmie Reilley, stellar Irish halfback, is here shown as he romped off thirty-one yards in t Lincoln game. However, the Irish were soon stopped and Jimmie's run was of little avail Lincoln won 2-0.

The Sacred Heart Track team started the 1936 season with but veterans Charles Keyer, Co-Captain Bob Schoenstein, Phil Carlisle, and Co-Captain Art Maehl. Carlisle "puleld a muscle" in an indoor meet and Maehl was forced out from sickness. Both were lost for the whole season.

Brother Arthur took up the coaching duties. With two weeks working out, he entered a relay team in the Golden Spikes and they won medals. Next they captured the C. Y. O. Indoor championship. With many of his best men on the casualty list he entered a few men in the Lowell relays and finished in sixth place, in which twenty-six schools were entered. Sacred Heart defeated Poly 59-31. Lacombe won the high hurdles; Kelly, diminutive Sophomore won the 220 yard dash in 23.9; Cavanaugh won the mile run, defeating teammate Art Maehl; Bob Schoenstein and Bill Fitzpat-

OUR SCHOOL SPIRIT?

Student attendance at football games reached an all-time low last Friday when less than two hundred students were present at the Sacred Heart-Commerce game at Kezar.

The question which arises is "Where was the rest of the student body?" The only explanation seems to be that the majority of the students are not interested in school activities.

Most apparently attend games only when the odds favor Sacred Heart, and are absent when it seems that we might not win. The fact is, however, a well organized cheering section is needed more than ever at such times to encourage the team.

Little wonder it is that the school has won only one game out of five this season. The team has tried its best, and has made a good showing of itself, in spite of the fact that it had weak support from the student body.

In the past five games, a small handful has been required to do the work of the whole school. Sacred Heart is the smallest school in the league, and as a result it is imperative that every single student give his wholehearted support to the team by attending the games.

We cannot expect the "other" fellow to do it, we must all do it ourselves. School spirit is not a material thing, like a building. It is only what the students themselves make it. Sacred Heart in the past has been noted for its school

ST. LA SALLE AUXILIARY DRIVE IN FULL SWING AT SACRED HEART

New Quota Set; Good Spirit Is Shown

The annual drive for membership in the St. La Salle Auxiliary got under way on Tuesday, September 21st. The students showed the usual enthusiasm for which Sacred Heart boys have been noted in the past in connection with this drive to raise funds for the education of young men to the Brotherhood.

Brother Edmund, History instructor, has been appointed in charge of the drive this year. If the other activities sponsored by him are an indication of the success of the drive we should reach our goal in the allotted time. In a statement to the representative of the Blue and White Brother Edmund said in part: "The real basis of loyalty on the part of the student body is the willingness to co-operate to the fullest extent with the faculty in whatever undertaking is started for the general good. The sacrifices which you, the members of the student body, will make to insure the success of the present campaign will be amply rewarded. This year we are making the quota $2,200. With the hearty co-operation of all, we should have no difficulty in reaching our goal."

Sons of fighting spirit,

This year Sacred Heart began a new club under the supervision of Philip Vargas and Kevin Harrigan. The Students Social Action Club was founded to take upon itself community drives and charities. Primarily serving the March of Dimes and Red Cross, it had a very successful first year. It raised $198 for the March of Dimes Balloon Day, $80 for Shamrocks for Dystrophy and was well represented in the annual Walk-A-Thon. It is the hope of this club that students become aware of there Christian obligation to work actively and constructively in society.

Senior Chorus

Under the fine leadership of Brother Arnold the Senior Chorus has represented Sacred Heart at many public and private affairs this past Centennial Year. The many members of the Chorus sacrificed many a night to perform for audiences around San Francisco. The entire student body should be proud and grateful for the Chorus performance this past year as they brought a better understanding and communication between Sacred Heart and our surrounding community.

The Mothers' Guild has done more than their share to make Sacred Heart's Centennial a very memorable year. With their help the Centennial Memories program brought back how life was years ago. With their financial help this yearbook was able to be published. The Shamrock Staff wishes to extend its deepest thanks to the ladies for all their help.

The Fathers' Club

In the Above picture we see a few of the many fathers who have participated in making this past Centennial year one of the best in Sacred Heart history. Their never ending interest and dedication throughout the year has instilled a sense of pride of the students for their fathers. They have done more than their share with their support and for this the Shamrock Staff offers congratulations and thanks.

Fight'in Irish Win a Wild One

The 1974 W.C.A.L. Baseball Playoffs opened at Santa Clara's Washington Park with the Irish facing the Mitty Monarchs, a team which Sacred Heart had failed to defeat in two previous encounters. Mitty took an early lead but the Irish rallied in the 5th inning to apparently go ahead 5-3. An appeal play by the Monarchs ended the inning and disallowed two of Sacred Heart's runs, prompting the Irish coaching staff to protest the game. Play continued with a score of 3-3, and Mitty ended up "winning" in extra innings 4-3.

The next day it was ruled that our protest was upheld and that the game would be replayed from the point of protest. This meant that play would resume with Mitty batting in the 6th inning with the score 5-3 in favor of the Irish. The location of the game also was moved to Fitzgerald Field in San Mateo. The Irish, with new life, held on for a 5-4 victory. The game ended in a brawl caused by uncontrolled harrassment by Mitty players upon the Irish. Tempers were frayed on both sides and the fight inevitably erupted. However harangued, the Irish still left the field victorius, leaving Mitty a loser's bus ride home.

Brother Conrad, FSC

No Sacred Heart Centennial publication would be complete without paying tribute to a man who has dedicated most of his life to Sacred Heart and the many students who walked its halls these past decades. Brother Conrad has always put the needs of the students and of the school ahead of his own. His love and dedication thru the years has always served as an example for past alumni and present students in forming Christian values. To this man the 1974 Shamrock Staff extends a word of thanks for everything.

CONSTITUTION

SACRED HEART HIGH SCHOOL

It is an accepted fact that there is nothing we do these days that does not cost us time, money, energy or supervision, in one way or another. And, by the same reasoning we know that if we want the best, we must be willing to devote a little more time, energy and supervision. Our children represent our greatest investment in this world and it behooves us to protect that investment in every way possible, and, we must further the relationship between father and son, which is so vital to us all. It is required of each father, or male legal guardian, of a student, or, former student of Sacred Heart High School, that he give a little of his time, a little of his energy, and a little of his experience, to assist in the development of his son, or war, while a student of Sacred Heart High School, and the strengthening of the high school as a character molding institution. Let us, then, as fathers and guardians, of students of Sacred Heart High School, dedicate this Constitution, the organization that it represents, and ourselves as individuals, to the important task of securing for our sons the best in character development, and impressing upon them the importance of their choice of associates, and that we be dedicated to the purpose of helping in any way possible to make better men of the boys, and, in so doing, make better citizens of us all.
